Pamela Hill, R.N., CEO

Pamela Hill received her diploma from Presbyterian/St. Luke's Hospital and Colorado Women's College. She followed through to practice as a registered nurse for more than twenty years with her emphasis initially in cardiac surgery and then in cosmetic surgery and medical skin care. In 1992, Ms. Hill founded Facial Aesthetics©, a network of medical skin care clinics in association with John A. Grossman, M.D. Since then, Ms. Hill has been the industry pioneer in the growth and development of the medical spa industry. As the President and Chief Executive Officer of Facial Aesthetics©, Ms. Hill has been a proactive member and pioneer in the evolution of the medical spa model and the integration and union of cosmecueticals and non-surgical skin care. In addition to her leadership in the medical spa industry, she also has been actively engaged in the research and development of the successful Pamela Hill Skin Care product line.

Ms. Hill has devoted her passion for non-medical skin care to the instruction of a higher level of education and skill for those aspiring to be the aestheticians of tomorrow. To further this mission, Ms. Hill founded the Pamela Hill Institute© in 2004. The Pamela Hill Institute's© goal is to develop a uniform, comprehensive curriculum and resources for aesthetic education, the advancement of cutting edge technologies, while placing an emphasis on client care and safety for patients, students, and product lines as well.

The PAMELA HILL product line is designed with one primary objective - results.

p r e v e n t

A world-renowned chemist and pharmacologist, at the direction of Pamela Hill, created the PAMELA HILL product line. It is like no other skin care program you have experienced. When used as directed, these products, together with a regular clinical program and daily regimen designed by your clinician, will more dramatically improve your skin's tone, texture and overall appearance than you have previously thought possible.

r e s t o r e

Pamela Hill, the founder of Facial Aesthetics, Inc. brings years of surgical experience, patient care, research and product testing to the development of this exceptional product line.
Feeling frustrated with the existing products available, Pamela filled a niche by creating her own product line.
